CordenPharma Wins Life Science Leader 2020 CMO Leadership Awards for Expertise, Quality & Service

CordenPharma, a full-service Contract Development & Manufacturing Organization (CDMO), is pleased to announce their selection for Life Science Leader 2020 CMO Leadership Awards in three Categories: Expertise, Quality, and Service.

Survey participants were recruited from Pharma and Biopharma companies of all sizes and were screened for decision-making influence related to working with contract manufacturing suppliers. Respondents only evaluated companies with which they worked on an outsourced project within the past 18 months. This level of qualification ensured that survey responses were based on actual involvement with contract manufacturers, with clear experiential data.

Dr. Michael Quirnbach, CEO & President of CordenPharma said, "We are pleased to receive the Life Science Leader 2020 CMO Leadership Awards for Expertise, Quality & Service. These awards from our customers reflect our ongoing efforts to be guided by four pillars that form the foundation of our mission: Customer Centricity & Service, Operational Excellence, Collaborative Partnership, and People & Culture. They remind us to be inspired by the direct impact our customers have on patients, and as such we strive for excellence every day to deliver on-time, high quality products with integrity, transparency and flexibility."
